Personal Profile

Hard working and trustworthy, I am a mature person who is not afraid to undertake new tasks or learn new skills. I am used to working away from home and working with new people due to being in the army for five years. I am an adaptable team worker, who is willing and able to take responsibilities for efficient team productivity. I am proficient at planning my own schedules and using my initiative as well as being able to follow instructions accurately. I have a full UK driving license and I am available for an immediate start.
