Story Homes

Dear Sir/Madam,

I am writing to express my strong interest in the Trainee Site Manager role advertised on Indeed.

I was absolutely thrilled when I saw this opportunity as it would allow me to learn and work with a successful housebuilding company such as Story Homes. I am fascinated by the challenging yet exciting process of building a property. I believe that the construction sector, particularly building new homes, is currently at the forefront of our economy as there is a very high demand struggling to meet the required supply.

Having studied Petroleum Engineering at university it put me in contact with new theories daily. My team working skills strengthened as I completed several group projects within a set time limit. Examinations that I sat during my school and university years trained me to tolerate working independently and under pressure. I always like to plan and complete everything I do as thoroughly and accurately as possible. I am a punctual individual who has excellent communication and organisational skills. I take health and safety procedures seriously, can cooperate with people from all backgrounds and have the confidence to lead a team. I enjoy being outdoors as well as working in an office environment.

My aspirations have diverted from the oil industry and I want to embark upon a career in construction site management, taking my first step with Story Homes. I am prepared to study for relevant qualifications as well as to learn on the job. As a Trainee Site Manager, I will be a dedicated member of the team who will respect the values and policies of the company, I also look forward to working alongside various other professions and trades in the industry. I am willing to relocate to North West England.

I would welcome any opportunities to discuss my application at your convenience. I am contactable by email at amiralhassan96@gmail.com or by telephone on 07513434736.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Yours faithfully,

Amir Al-Hassan
